

login: cs61c-adh

password: Nc+u7GAw

ABOUT YOUR ACCOUNT:

- This account is provided for coursework only and is valid on instructional computers only.
- This account will expire the first Monday after the last final of the current semester.
- The systems staff respects your right to privacy and will only look at the content of your account if: there is evidence of a security breach * conduct related to your account * you or an instructor have requested it. However, please be aware that normal management functions, such as data archiving, may inadvertently expose the contents of some files to trusted management staff.
- By default all class accounts are Linux, based accounts. If your class requires a windows environment then the same login and password will work in our Windows labs.
- Also, be aware that Linux and Windows passwords are the same until you change them.

RULES OF CONDUCT:

When you use the Instructional computers, you agree to following statement:

I will review the usage policies for the computer accounts at <http://inst.eecs.berkeley.edu/policies>. I know that if I violate any of these rules, I may be blocked from using the Instructional computers, and/or may lead to further disciplinary action by the University. These are some of the rules to which I agree:

- I will not use the computers to transmit or display any text, images or sounds that are defamatory or obscene or that threaten other users with harm. I am bound by the laws and University policies that prohibit defamation, harrasment, exploitation and intimidation in all forms.¹
- I will not use a false identity in email or other communications via computer.
- I will not attempt or participate in unauthorized entry into another user's account or into another system.
- I will not view another person's computer files without that person's permission or plagiarize from another person.
- I will not share the use of my account or give my password to anyone else.
- I will not copy software from the instructional computers without permission from the author or the ISG staff.
- I will not run any network servers without permission from the ISG staff.
- I will not bring food or drinks into the labs.

These statements define your rights as well as the restrictions concerning your use of this account. If you think you have been the victim of any of these offenses, please notify us immediately.

GETTING STARTED:

- See <http://inst.eecs.berkeley.edu/labs> to find labs.
- See <http://inst.eecs.berkeley.edu/connecting.html> about email, software, and logging into either Linux or Windows systems.
- See <http://inst.eecs.berkeley.edu/connecting.html#grad> if you also have an EECS research account.
- To change your Linux password logon to a LINUX console and ssh to ssh.update.eecs.berkeley.edu and follow the prompts.
- To change your Windows password logon to a Windows system and perform the following keystrokes CTRL+ALT+DEL. Then click on Change Password.
- For help, contact inst@eecs.berkeley.edu or visit staff during office hours in the offices listed at the top of the page. Please bring this account form and your SID card with you.
- For more help either contact inst@eecs.berkeley.edu, refer to the bulletins boards near 199 Cory, 271 Soda, and 330 Soda. Or instead visit staff during business hours in the rooms listed at the top of this page. Please be prepared to show this form and your student ID.
- For all other matters please also visit the instructional webpage at <http://inst.eecs.berkeley.edu>.

¹These policies are available at <http://technology.berkeley.edu/policy/usepolicy/> and <http://campuspol.chance.berkeley.edu>.